

Naturin Viscofan GmbH is one of the leading companies world-wide in manufactured casings. Naturin is a member of the Viscofan Group which offers an extensive range of casings derived from collagen, plastic and cellulose in over 100 countries throughout the world.

Our success is the result of a perfect combination of tradition and innovation. Our business values which we show you below point the way for our company's activities and therefore are of central importance.

- Sustainable Economic Performance
- Customer Satisfaction
- Innovation
- Employee Value
- Commitment to Safety, Health and the Environment

The Viscofan Group product range consists of a unique spectrum of collagen, cellulose fibrous and plastic casings matched nowhere in the world. Our wide variety of calibers, colours, finishes and prints offers each and every one of you the perfect casing for your products.

Our state-of-the-art products innovate the meat industry and meet the high demands of our customers. The wide international range of sausages and specialities require an ever larger range of sausage casings. We fulfil these market demands and cover the requirements of our customers and partners with an extensive range of standard and customised products. We use modern technology and highly qualified personnel to maintain a leading role in offering quality casings.

Naturin sees quality as more than just a term for supplying products which fulfil market requirements. Naturin understands quality as a global concept.

Our competent and experienced service team of sales and customer service personnel, technicians, food technologists and R&D experts is at our customer's disposal in all questions on our products and their applications. We promote team work with our customers and partners, with whom we work closely to find the best solution for new products or improvements for existing products. We ensure that our customers always find a professional partner for their specific demand.

Over 500 employees at Naturin in Weinheim, Germany, are committed to giving our partners the best possible service, and influence our company's success with their competence and sense of responsibility.

The key to our success is building cooperative and efficient working relationships in a pleasant, constructive and dynamic working environment. We encourage team work and personal identification with the company and acknowledge motivated employees and their willingness to achieve. A lean management, direct decision-making and cultural diversity characterize our personnel environment.

Visit www.naturin.de for further information.

We look forward to you contacting us

Naturin Viscofan GmbH
Badeniastrasse 13
D - 69469 Weinheim
Germany

Tel.: 06201/86-0
Fax: 06201/86-485
naturin@naturin.de